

RAILROAD NEWS

PARIS BY RAIL.

Thriving Town of Gem State to Get On Railroad May Soon.

The thriving little municipality of Paris, Ida., will shortly be on the railroad map of southern Idaho, all the preliminaries for building a branch line of the Oregon Short Line from Montpelier to Paris having been accomplished. Vice President and General Manager W. H. Bancroft this morning received a communication from the committee of citizens in charge of the arrangements for securing right of way, etc., for the new line, saying that the right of way is assured for the entire distance of 11 miles between Montpelier and Paris. It is expected that a member of the committee will arrive in Salt Lake City within the next few days to complete final details preparatory to building the line, when it will be ready to be graded, and the branch completed at the earliest possible date.

For years the people of Paris have been working to secure railroad facilities, and now their efforts are about to be crowned with success, and soon the foot of the iron horse will be heard resounding across the Bear Lake bottom.

RAILROADS AND WAGES.

"The wages of railroad employees are at a higher level than ever before," the Railway World says, "both actually and as compared with revenues and expenses. A table compiled from the official figures of the Interstate commerce commission shows that the average salary of the employees rose from $607 a year in 1905 to $721 in 1908. It shows that an average of $623 per $1,000 of total expenditure went to the worker in 1908, as against only $572 in 1905. The railroad received $29 of net earnings for each $1,000 of capital in 1908, as against $44 in 1905. They received $143 of gross earnings for each $1,000 of capital in 1908, as against $150 in 1905. There was no reduction in the wage rate on the railroads of the country after the panic of 1907."

COMPLETE TO FARMINGTON.

The double track extension on the Short Line has been completed to Farmington, and can be turned over to the operating department at any time.

BELLE LONDON TO FACE JURY

Trial of Case Begins Tomorrow Morning Before Judge Bowman in Police Court.

Yutuffs displaced legal arguments for a few minutes this morning in the attempt to keep Belle London out of court, when Culbert L. Olsen, attorney for Belle London, clashed in a physical encounter with P. J. Daly, assistant city attorney. Following this, the prosecution won again with a blow from the fist and a well-planted kick.

The altercation which occurred in the court clerk's office, was the sensational ending of the court proceedings this morning, which left no alternative for Belle London but to appear before a jury in the police court tomorrow morning, to be tried on the first of the charges brought against her. The bitterness of the defense was early manifested in the proceedings and culminated when in the charge of defense attorney, the prosecution was flung by the attorney for the defense at Asst. City Atty. Daly.

"If I had you down on the street where you won't be under the protection of the police I'd smash your face to a pulp, you—now, forward," was the taunt thrown out by Atty. Olsen, and promptly answered by Asst. City Atty. Olsen, both he charged under three blows with a blow on the jaw and a kick, executed before the bystanders could interfere to the rescue of Mr. Olsen.

TODAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

When the cases against Mrs. Dora E. Topham, alias Belle London, were called this morning, the defense resorted to tactics of delay, by first asking that the cases of the two Koreans from the stockade, Hui Hak and S. S. Lee, both charged under three complaints with violating the liquor ordinance, be tried first. When the court ruled that the cases proceed as set, and ordered the calling of the first case against Belle London, Atty. Olsen entered his demand for a jury trial. When the court continued the case until tomorrow morning in order that a jury might be secured, the defense then wanted an immediate trial, suggesting that there were sufficient men on the streets that could be secured to form a jury within a few minutes. When this was denied the defense then resorted to its insistence of having the Koreans tried first.

The prosecution, through Mr. Daly, showed that one of its purposes will be to use the Koreans as witnesses against Belle London, but after the case was argued by the defense, Mr. Daly consented to releasing the Koreans upon their own recognizance under the assurance of Mr. Olsen that he would guarantee their appearance in court when required. Since the arrest a week ago Wednesday the Koreans have been held in the city jail in default of $500 bonds each.

TROUBLE IN THE AIR.

Mr. Daly took the two Koreans into the clerk's office and had begun talking with them when Mr. Olsen entered and turning to the interpreter told the latter to advise the Koreans to say nothing. Mr. Daly explained his action to Mr. Olsen, stating that he intended to use at least one of the men as a witness, but Olsen again advised them to say nothing of whatever the questions. In the parley Mr. Olsen asked several times to leave the room, with the final curt demand, "Will you get out."

"Yes, but if I had you down on the street where you wouldn't be under the protection of the police I'd smash your face to a pulp, you—now, forward," was the answer given by Olsen, with face paling in suppressed anger. Before the word "forward" was completed Mr. Daly had started and landed a blow on Olsen's jaw that but for the quick interference of a bystander might have hurt. Before Olsen could back out of the way Mr. Daly followed the blow with a kick. When the three or four present intervened, Mr. Olsen went down stairs.

Unsuccessful in evading the charges placed against her, Belle London, the keeper of the stockade, will appear in the police court tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock before a jury. The first case to be tried will be that of violating the liquor ordinance by having sold liquor without a license. This case will be followed by three others of a similar nature and five cases in which she is charged with having rented houses for immoral purposes.

Belle London was an interested spectator of the court proceedings this morning again, and was within close distance when the fist and kick took place.
